

The new business fax rules are onerous and extreme. We are a trade association for Ohio manufacturers. There is no more effective control over our communication tactics than the voice of our customer. We have always respected and complied with the established business relationship practice as well as maintained strict no fax, no email, no pander lists to honor the wishes of our members. Adequate controls are already in place. Please work diligently to rescind the new rules that add complexity and therefore cost to manufacturers, who are already under seige in this economy.
